Strengthening the Canadian public sector digital workforce – together

www.dpi-canada.com

What is DPI?

DPI is a volunteer-based, not-for-profit Canadian organization that supports the development and growth of digital professionals in the public sector.

Our Mission

Strengthening the Canadian public sector digital workforce through evolving partnerships with digital leaders, public sector organizations, academia, and the private sector to:

- Strengthen professionalization of the Canadian public sector digital workforce,
- Support their careers (through learning and educational opportunities),
- Build the community, and
- Create a DigitalxChange.

DPI is for the community, by the community.

With our pivot to hybrid delivery -- we are more accessible than ever!

Who Do We Serve? Affiliation

- Affiliation is FREE!

Testimonials

PDW is the best 'bang-for-the-buck' any employer could invest in; nowhere else will public servants get the kind of first class insight into future driven IT ideas and leadership that is delivered by DPI at PDW. Heather - ESDC

PDW is a must-have on my learning plan each year. Whether participating in person or virtually, the variety and quality of the content and sessions offered is always relevant to my work as a public sector IT professional and manager. The speakers are knowledgeable, the event is extremely well run, and the learning, networking and mentorship opportunities are fantastic! Denis - SSC

DPI has always been an excellent source for thought provoking and educational seminars and workshops. Its signature Professional Development Week (PDW) is the best experience and value for the money. Without a doubt, DPI helped me with my career development. Anonymous

I have been attending PDW for many years as both an attendee and volunteer. In my view, it is the IM/IT event of the year. I appreciate the diverse lineup of keynote speakers and topics from seminars. There is always something new to learn to be applied to your career and life. Lisa - CRA

I attended PDW in 2021 and even though it was virtual, the event was still engaging, interesting and well run – it used latest technology and allowed for interaction in various ways i.e twitter, chat, networking; the speakers were excellent and relevant; I look forward to participating again in 2022! Chris - CBSA
