As you know, the COVID-19 pandemic has created new and increased demands for many teams in the Government of Canada. As a result, Canadians are looking to us for stewardship during this crisis. Public servants across the country are looking to us for stewardship during this crisis.

Stéphane Thévenot Peter Silva We should probably continue this conversation in #httpseverywhere-httpspartout (feel free to respond in there), but I don't see what value Entrust provides anymore, even with the warranty. LE can now do wildcard certs so that pretty much covers it. Just like anything else, you need to stay on top of it (e.g. send alarms if certs aren't automatically renewed within 30 days of expiry).

Welcome to the GCcollab Wiki! [\[edit source \]](#)

The GCcollab Wiki is a public wiki hosted by the Government of Canada to facilitate collaboration and knowledge sharing.

Like GCcollab, the wiki is open to public servants from all levels of government, academics and students from Canadian universities and colleges, external partners, and anyone by invitation. The wiki supplements existing work on GCcollab and will host information, working documents, and projects from communities across Canada.

Please note that the GCcollab Wiki is currently in its beta development phase. If you encounter any issues or would like to provide feedback, please contact the GCTools Help Desk. If you would like to get involved in the development of the GCcollab Wiki, send us a message and let us know what you're working on.

Why the GCcollab Wiki? [\[edit source \]](#)

- Work in the open: share your ideas, information, and projects as they unfold and by doing so, find diverse partners and connections in real-time.
- Create together: draft projects and connect with your peers in other departments, sectors, or regions across Canada.
- Connect-the-dots: consider the GCcollab Wiki like a public square – an online space where Canadians connect to share ideas across interdisciplinary communities to create solutions for public benefit.

About the Platform [\[edit source \]](#)

The GCcollab Wiki content is available to the public, however, users must have an account and be logged in if they wish to add or modify content.

Wikis are designed to be collaborative. Pages do not have "owners", but instead, they have creators and editors. Any member of a wiki can create and edit articles. The collaborative nature of wikis creates interactive content which is constantly evolving.

The Digital Collaboration Division within the Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat manages GCcollab and GCcollab Wiki, but does not moderate individual pages.

Vision

To enhance and sustain the capacity of the federal regulatory community through learning, partnerships and best practices

Mission

A regulatory community Canadians trust to maintain and strengthen their health, safety, security and prosperity in a sustainable society

CFR Governance Structure

The CFR is championed by the President of the Public Health Agency of Canada, Dr. Siddika Mithani. Informal Learning Network

Informal Learning Network

There are numerous public servants who have a career's worth of knowledge, dedication and experience. This represents a tremendous amount of skills and abilities that can be tapped into through the Informal Learning Network.

This is a centralized page where employees of any department and level can register to act as collaborators, mentors and/ or guest speakers. Employees are encouraged to indicate their name, current title, location and whether or not they have access to a Web Ex account. They may then add their areas of proficiency and personal email addresses.

Employees, leaders, communities of practice and members of working groups or teams can then use this database to contact interested public servants for mentorship opportunities, collaboration on projects or for WebExes or teleconferences to further enlighten themselves or their colleagues. This should aid in breaking down silos, building networks, increasing collaboration and spreading best practices within the public service.

Below is a list of employees who are willing to engage with their colleagues across Canada. Please feel free to edit the table below and add your information!

Réseau de l'apprentissage Informel

Il y a une multitude de fonctionnaires qui comptent à leur actif des années d'expérience, de savoir accumulé et de dévouement. Ceci représente une source gigantesque de compétences et habiletés dans laquelle il est possible de puiser grâce au Réseau de l'apprentissage Informel.

Il s'agit d'une page centralisée à laquelle les employés provenant de tous les niveaux et ministères peuvent s'inscrire en tant que collaborateurs, mentors ou conférenciers. Tous sont encouragés à indiquer leur nom, leur fonction actuelle, leur emplacement et s'ils ont accès à un compte WebEx. Ils sont ensuite invités à ajouter leurs champs de compétences ainsi que leur adresse courriel personnelle s'ils le désirent.

Employés, leaders, communautés de pratique et membres de groupes de travail peuvent se servir de cette base de données pour entrer en communication avec les fonctionnaires participants. Ils auront ainsi la possibilité de créer des opportunités de mentorat, de collaborer à des projets, ou d'organiser des téléconférences WebEx dans le but d'accroître leurs connaissances ou celles de leurs collègues.

Ceci devrait contribuer à briser des silos, créer des réseaux et favoriser la collaboration et le partage des meilleures pratiques au sein de la fonction publique.
