Unjust dismissal complaint:

- 90 days from the day on which the subject matter of your complaint.
- Employee/ intern must have worked or performed work for a minimum of 12 consecutive months for the same employer;
- Employee/ intern must not be subject to a collective agreement

Genetic discrimination complaint:

- 90 days after the day on which the subject matter of your complaint arose.
- If your complaint is related to third party disclosure and the employer collecting or using the test results without written consent, your complaint must be filed within 6 months from the day on which the subject matter of the complainant's complaint arose.

Pay Deductions

Pay Deductions

- Deductions permitted :
 - Required by federal/provincial law (e.g., taxes, CPP, EI)
 - Authorized by court order (e.g., child support) or collective agreement (e.g., union dues)
 - Specific amounts authorized in writing by employee/ intern
 - Overpayments of wages
- Authorized deduction pursuant to paragraph 254.1(2)(c) of the Code
 - The employer must obtain a written authorization by the employee/ intern consenting to the deduction of a specific amount. For every deduction made, the authorization must be in writing, specify a particular amount, and be given in a way that is truly consensual.

Pay Deductions

- Deductions not permitted:
 - For damage to property, or loss of money or property, if any person other than the employee/ intern had access to the property or money in question
 - For dismissal, suspension, discipline, lay-off or demotion if garnishment proceedings may be, or have been, taken

Reimbursement of Work-related Expenses

Reimbursement of Work-related Expenses

Expenses are reimbursed pursuant to section 238.1 of the Code and section 23.1 of the Canada Labour Standards Regulations.

 An employee is entitled to reimbursement of reasonable work-related expenses.

Reimbursement of Work-related Expenses, exceptions

- Expenses that are not required to be reimbursed:
 - Where there is a collective agreement, any expense the employee is required to pay in accordance with the collective agreement or a written agreement between the trade union and the employer
 - Where there is no collective agreement, any expense that the employee is required to pay in accordance with any written agreement between themselves and the employer

How Employers Inform Employees

 Employers are required to inform employees how they can claim reimbursement of expenses on the employment statement.

Recovery of Wages

Wage Recovery Process

- Enforcement methods used:
 - Payment order to employer
 - Order to debtor of employer
 - If payment order not paid, or review not requested
 - Payment order to director
 - If review of payment order to employer not requested and money still owing
 - Orders may be filed in Federal Court
- Complaint Unfounded:
 - Notice of Unfounded Complaint issued if found that no amounts are owed within the last six months from when the complaint was received

Wage Recovery: Administrative Review and Appeal

- May request a review of decision:
 - In writing, with reasons and within 15 days of being served a payment order or notice of unfounded complaint
 - Payment of amount in order must be paid to Head of Compliance and Enforcement (Receiver General for Canada)
- The review may result in the decision in question be confirmed, rescinded or varied (in whole or in part):
 - If overturned, case will be assigned to a labour affairs officer
- The resultant reviewed decision may be further appealed to the Board but only on a question of law or jurisdiction.
