- Formal invitations for this function have now been issued by the Office of the Official Secretary to the Governor-General (via email for Canadian delegates and post for Australian delegates).
- A reminder card with more information will be emailed directly to you closer to the function. You will need to print and bring the card, along with some photographic ID, to facilitate your entry to this event (we will be taking a portable printer with us to Sydney, so can assist with printing if required)
- A protocol guide for events hosted by the Governor-General and Lady Cosgrove is attached to this briefing pack. The dress code is lounge suit for men, typically a dark business suit. For women the dress code is day wear, a smart dress, or suit (skirt or trousers), or skirt or trousers with a jacket.
- The climb from the wharf up to Admiralty House is quite steep and, in the event of wet weather, quite slippery. As such, please wear comfortable shoes. Pier One is able to provide us with loan umbrellas if needed.

'THE GANTRY' DINNER RESERVATION (Optional) - Wednesday 23 January 2019, 6:00pm - 7:00pm:

The reservation has been made based on The Gantry's $89 per person four course group 'tasting menu' option.
- While we have been able to arrange for your food to be charged back to your room (to be settled on check-out), any beverages consumed will need to be either paid for at the bar, or settled with the wait staff on the night.

- The Bathers Pavilion is an approximately 7 minute walk from the Balmoral Jetty. As such, please wear comfortable shoes. Pier One has umbrellas available for loan if needed.

The cruise will tell stories of the Cadigal, Guringai, Wangal, Gammaraigal and Wallumedegal people of Sydney Harbour and teach the Aboriginal names and meanings of significant Sydney landmarks.
- This cruise takes place on Sydney Harbour, and as such is subject to prevailing weather conditions. The vessel, the Mari Nawi, is a covered charter boat, with some open decks for viewing.
- For your comfort, it is suggested you wear appropriate covered shoes, bring sun protection (sunglasses, hats, sunscreen), and also an outer layer (light jacket). Sun screen will also be made available on the cruise for delegates use.
